Solve the Mystery of the Runefloor™

Professor Otto Wackenhammer invites you to be his alchemical apprentice. Fame and Glory await! Be the first to turn base metals into Gold, create the Elixir of Life or discover the Universal Solvent.

Prof. Wackenhammer has saved the Great Runefloor from the Grand Meeting Room of the Mystic Order of the Guild of Clerics from imminent destruction. It has been transported tile by tile from its original site to Wackenhammer's. It contains a secret message revealed only to the most persistent acolytes.

You need only puzzle out these guides to the hidden message. Pace off the squares on the Rune path according to the number and direction shown. Write down the rune under your feet in the numbered box below, and translate using the key. Successful translations should be brought to the desk staff for redemption.
