COMPUTER HISTORY MUSEUM

"SILICON VALLEY'S ANSWER TO THE SMITHSONIAN." USA TODAY

Spend the afternoon at the Computer History Museum and experience an immersive journey into the origins of computing and learn about the ongoing impact of technology in our lives. User or code jockey, pilgrimage or family adventure, you'll be awed and inspired by the genius, tenacity, moments of discovery, and occasional sheer luck leading to the history-changing phenomenon known as the Information Age. Learn about 2,000 years of computing, from ancient times to today's Internet. You will enjoy 1,000+ unique artifacts, hundreds of videos, docent-led tours, and vintage technology demonstrations.

Located in Silicon Valley, no visit to Northern California is complete without a tour of our world-class exhibits. The Museum also has a café, gift store, and plenty of parking.

Admission Fees:

General Admission	$15.00
Senior,* Student,* and Active Military	$12.00

Children 12 and under: Free
*Seniors = 65 Yrs+ / Student = 13 to 18 Yrs

computerhistory.org

Location:
1401 N. Shoreline Blvd. Mountain View, CA
On the corner of Shoreline Blvd. and Highway 101

Hours:
Wednesday–Sunday, 10am–5pm

Bring this card and receive $2 dollars off any entrée in the Cloud Café.
VALID FOR ONE-TIME USE

$2 OFF

Bring this card and receive $2 dollars off your admission ticket.
VALID FOR ONE-TIME GENERAL ADMISSION

$2 OFF

Computer History Museum