From the Turnpike south take exit 67 Coconut Creek Parkway/MLK Jr, take Atlantic Boulevard east towards the ocean, going north take Exit 66, Atlantic Boulevard east.

Railway/Bus

Visitors taking Amtrak, your station will be Deerfield Beach or Fort Lauderdale. For local Tri-Rail visitors, Pompano Beach station is your stop. If you prefer bus, it's Greyhound to the Fort Lauderdale station.

WELCOME

Pompano Beach, "Florida's Warmest Welcome", in the heart of Florida's Gold Coast boasts some of the warmest and clearest waters, welcoming sandy beaches and calming breezes.

Pompano Beach has experienced a major renaissance and is a vibrant, sophisticated, multidimensional destination with a three mile stretch of pristine shoreline, restored dunes and tree shaded playgrounds and exercise areas.

Pompano Beach is named for the Pompano, a species of inshore tropical game fish which swims abundantly in the areas warm Atlantic Ocean.

THE FISHING VILLAGE

The Fishing Village is a six-acre site next to the new Fisher Family Pier which includes the Beach House and the Oceanic restaurant directly on the beach as well as the Lucky Fish Beach Bar & Grill, for casual come as you are dining.

Located on the southeast corner of the Pier Parking Garage, is the Pompano Beach Visitors Center which is open daily. Visitors and residents alike are encouraged to drop in, get information on local events, see what's happening around the City and pick up complimentary discount coupons for local attractions and eateries. Visitors Center: 954.933.1176

Alvin's Island is a beach goods megastore. Soon you will also find Kilwin's Ice Cream, Burger Fi and Cannoli Kitchen, all steps away from the new Hilton Hotel.

The new Fisher Family Pier anchors the Village. It features lights, shade structures, benches, splinter free railings, marine related artwork, Wifi, a bait and tackle shop and state of the art security cameras. It is 896 feet long, high enough to withstand sea level rise and wide enough to reduce risk of people getting hooked by cast fishing lines as they stroll along the pier, The east end of the pier is shaped like a stylized Pompano, its namesake.

DIVING

Scuba diving and snorkeling are permitted everywhere. Pompano Beach has the most magnificent natural coral reefs that you can swim to from shore. For the serious diving enthusiasts, Pompano Beach is the "Wreck Capitol" of Florida, 18 wrecks are located off the shores of Pompano Beach, including the Lady Luck and the Okinawa, recently sunk about one mile off the Fisher Family Pier to create an artificial reef. The linear reef creates perfect conditions for divers.
