

WELCOME!

With a mission to “inspire and educate through nature,” and a history spanning more than 40 years, Mounts Botanical is Palm Beach County's oldest and largest public garden.

From its beginnings as a horse pasture, Mounts evolved into a Horticultural Learning Center and became a public garden in 1978. Located just west of Palm Beach International Airport, our 16-acre tropical oasis is a hidden gem!

You'll discover 25 unique display gardens with more than 5,000 species of tropical and sub-tropical plants and trees including Florida natives, exotics, herbs, palms, roses, cactus, succulents, bromeliads, tropical fruit trees, and much more! The Mounts Botanical Edible Garden demonstrates what can be grown here in South Florida, year round.

You'll find information on all our display gardens at www.mounts.org/our-gardens.
