INDUSTRIAL TOUR OF THE CARRIE FURNACES

POST-INDUSTRIAL: ARTS & GROUNDS TOUR

IRON GARDEN WALK

PGH 101 TOUR ON THE EXPLORER RIVERBOAT

AT THE CARRIE BLAST FURNACES

Carrie Furnace Boulevard,
Rankin PA, 15104

INDUSTRIAL TOUR Declared a National Historic Landmark in 2006, Carrie, as it's affectionately known, entices visitors to marvel at the scale and legacy of its industrial might. This guided tour highlights the drama of the iron-making process while sharing the stories of the site's technology, its workers, and their culture.

POST-INDUSTRIAL: ARTS & GROUNDS TOUR

While production may have stopped on the site in 1982, the era of Carrie as an artistic muse was just beginning. Discover how guerrilla artists, urban explorers, and later curators, installation artists and even landscape designers have made creative use of a revered space.

IRON GARDEN WALK Discover a dense variety of ecological growth on this 35-acre site in this botanist-led tour. Learn about Rivers of Steel's "addition by reduction" approach to working the wild gardens and grounds that share this post-industrial landscape.
