

SAN FRANCISCO BOTANICAL GARDEN

AUTUMN

BETWEEN THE LATE
BLOOMERS, CLOUD FORESTS, AND AUTUMN FOLIAGE, THE TRADITIONAL AS WELL AS THE
UNEXPECTED COLORS OF FALL
ARE GORGEOUS RIGHT NOW
THROUGH DECEMBER

Savvy travelers and locals alike know fall is San Francisco's best season! This is when we experience our warmest weather and most dramatic lighting that appropriately spotlights the Garden's gorgeous global collections. Travel the world in these 55 acres and with as many fall flowers as deciduous leaves you will feel fall like never before.

- Stroll at your leisure and take in a seasonal bounty including the many late-blooming protea species and unique, hot pink Guernsey lilies blooming en masse in the South Africa collection; the giant tree dahlias, tree daisies, tree fuchsias, vireya rhododendron, and many more fascinating fall-flowering plants in the Garden's Cloud Forest collections; and classic fall color as the Japanese maples and magnolias lose their leaves in the Moon Viewing Garden and beyond.
- FREE Autumn docent tours and hands-on interpretation stations on most weekends.

HOURS & LOCATION

Open Daily at 7:30am in Golden Gate Park.

Closed one hour after last entry.

Last entry changes seasonally: 4pm from the 1st Sunday in November through January.

Entrances on Ninth Ave. at Lincoln Way (Main Gate) & at MLK Jr. Drive off the Music Concourse (Friend [North] Gate).

Note: Use Main Gate for early entry. Friend [North] Gate opens at 9am.

ADMISSION

Members & SF residents (with proof of residency): FREE

Non-residents: $9 general; $6 youth 12–17 & seniors;

$2 children 5–11; FREE children 4 & under;

$19 families of 2 adults & children 18 & under

The Garden is free to all visitors daily 7:30–9am, and on the second Tuesday of every month, as well as Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year's Day.

PARKING

Limited free street parking is available in Golden Gate Park. Additional paid parking and bicycle racks are located in the Music Concourse Garage.

ABOUT SAN FRANCISCO BOTANICAL GARDEN

In addition to Autumn's late bloomers, cloud forests, and fall color, the Garden is proud to feature a bounty of other seasonal highlights, including winter's Magnificent Magnolias—the most significant collection for conservation purposes outside China; and Asian, Australian, Chilean, Mediterranean, New Zealand, South African, and other unique global plant collections.

For more information,
call 415.661.1316 or visit
sfbg.org

Images all courtesy of Susan Holt
Front-Moon Viewing Garden
Back, left to right-Protea, Moon Viewing Garden,
Jigger's trumpet (Brugmansia sa)

Media Sponsor
KQED
San Francisco
San Francisco Chronicle

