

NAVIGATING THE DOOR

Door County is a serene Midwestern oasis which boasts miles of scenic roadways alongside 300 miles of tranquil shoreline. Navigate the area onboard a guided tour by land or boat for a glimpse into the history, culture, and geography of the area. If you're feeling adventurous, grab a map and meander along the Door County Coastal Byway which stretches from just north of Sturgeon Bay all the way to Northport where the Washington Island Ferry is located. Cross the narrow passage between the Peninsula and Washington Island onboard the ferry for a day or more of rest and relaxation far from the hustle and bustle of everyday life. When it's time to head back, travel south along the byway through Jacksonport to reach Sturgeon Bay. As you travel, a fusion of history, culture, exceptional cuisine, shopping, entertainment, and recreation make for a memorable experience. Why wait? Plan a trip and explore the Door. Regardless of the season, it's a sight to behold and an adventure to be treasured.
