

THE MUSEUM OF CONTEMPORARY PHOTOGRAPHY
AT COLUMBIA COLLEGE OF CHICAGO
CULTIVATES
A DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF THE ARTISTIC, CULTURAL AND POLITICAL IMPLICATIONS OF IMAGE IN OUR WORLD TODAY.

VISIT

FREE and open to the public
Monday through Saturday 10am–5pm
Thursday 10am–8pm
Sunday 12–5pm

Museum of Contemporary Photography
Columbia College Chicago
600 S. Michigan Ave. Chicago, Illinois 60605
Call 312-663-5554 or visit mocp.org to plan your visit.

Tours
We offer guided tours through current exhibitions
Visit mocp.org/education.

JOIN

Friends of the Museum
help bring the MoCP's critically-acclaimed programming to our diverse audiences from Chicago and beyond. As a free institution, your contributions directly impact the MoCP's ability to share art, support artists, grow our collection, contribute new scholarship to the field, and educate visitors of all ages and backgrounds.
Friends of the Museum enjoy special benefits like access to exclusive events, discounts on museum publications, and reciprocal privileges at over 1000 institutions across North America.
Join today at mocp.org/support

FRIEND OF THE MUSEUM

MoCP Museum of Contemporary Photography

Columbia COLLEGE CHICAGO

COVER:
Evan Baden, Katie with LG Chocolate, 2007, Courtesy of the Artist

INSIDE:
Left Panel, Top: Mary Sibande, A Terrible Beauty, 2013
Left Panel, Bottom: Evan Baden, The Baptist, from the A Conversão de São Paulo series, 2013
Right Panel, Top: Ansel Adams, Bridalveil Fall, Yosemite National Park, California, 1927 ©
The Ansel Adams Publishing Rights Trust

IMAGES IN OUR WORLD TODAY

MoCP
Museum of Contemporary Photography

ENGAGE

with the MoCP's collection of over 15,000 works by more than 1,400 artists, encompassing the depth and diversity of photographic practice from the invention of the medium to today.

DISCOVER

thought-provoking photography through the MoCP's groundbreaking exhibitions and programming.

LEARN

about the artistic, cultural and political roles of photography in our world today through tours, print viewings, panel discussions, and community engagement programs.

