1873 – Forever

One of NEW YORK CITY'S Oldest Pubs has been around since 1873

Located in the Historic South Street Seaport, steps away from the Brooklyn Bridge and right across from the East River, The Paris Cafe (1873) is the oldest bar in the neighborhood with a perfect blend of history, good food and strong drinks.

The Paris Cafe features a full bar, cocktails, daily specials, happy hour specials; serves a wide range of beers with a creative selection of craft beers that change seasonally as well as wines by the glass and by the bottle. We serve traditional American rustic and modern foods to suit all tastes and our desserts are homemade. At The Paris Cafe you will not leave hungry.

Enjoy views of the Brooklyn Bridge or take in one of the many sporting events on one of our 12 Big Screen TVs. As our locals say - "There's not bad seat in the house!"
