This holiday season, experience the beloved comedy that catapulted Irish playwright Dion Boucicault to international fame!

In this delightful farce, the vain and lustful Sir Harcourt Courtly travels to Oak Hall to meet his bride-to-be, the charming young Grace Harkaway, whose hand comes with £15,000 a year. But when the beautiful and vibrant Lady Gay Spanker joins the party, Sir Harcourt becomes too enamored with her to notice that Grace is falling in love with his young son Charles, who has arrived in disguise, pursued by his creditors!

A parade of eccentric characters and merry mishaps ensue in this classic comedy of manners.

“If I had to choose a single company to stand for all that is best and most characteristic about theater in New York, it might just be Irish Repertory Theatre... One of the finest theater companies in America.”

— Terry Teachout, The Wall Street Journal
